

Mini-project for a course in machine learning

Do (wo)men talk too much in films?

From lab task: the problem is to classify the gender of the two main actors (one male, one female) in Hollywood movies. The data set includes training set and test set, in total 1037 films. Some types of classification methods will be used (dependent of performance) and tested on the test set for the problem.